

Indian general elections 2014:

1. From this graph it is clear that BJP had the majority of votes in 2014 elections, winning upto 42.03% of the total seats.

Best Performing party

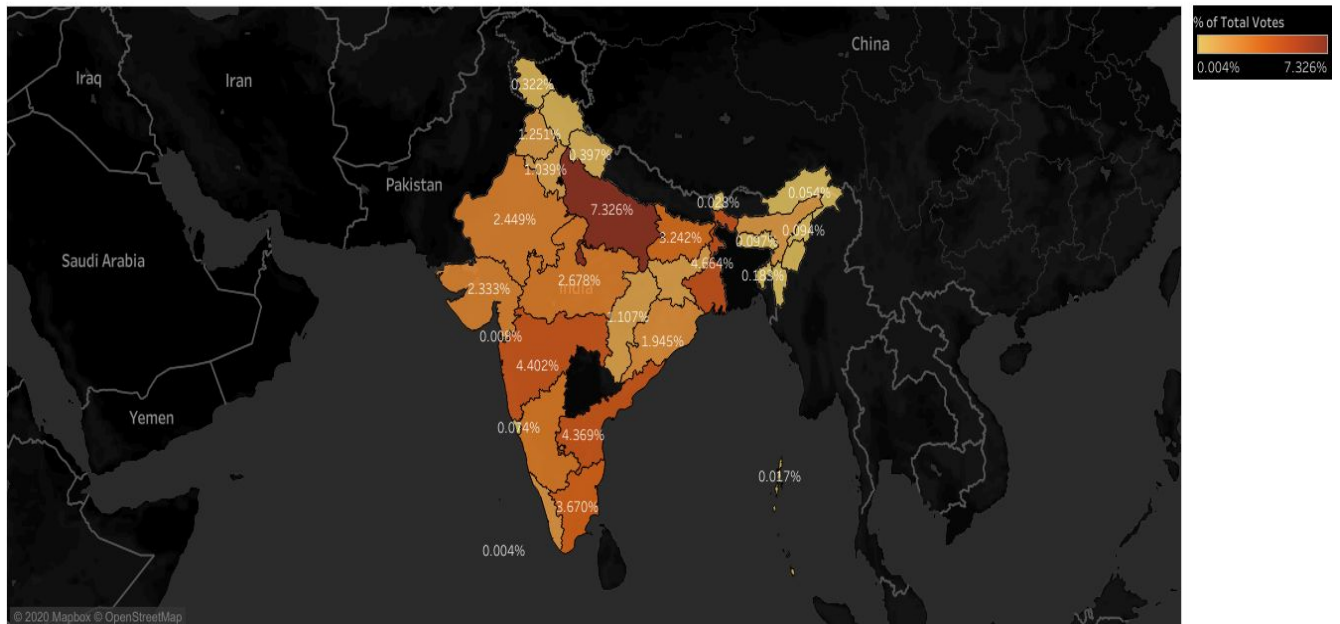

2. From this graph we can see the top 10 performing candidates of election. Clearly Mr.Modi was a star in this election.

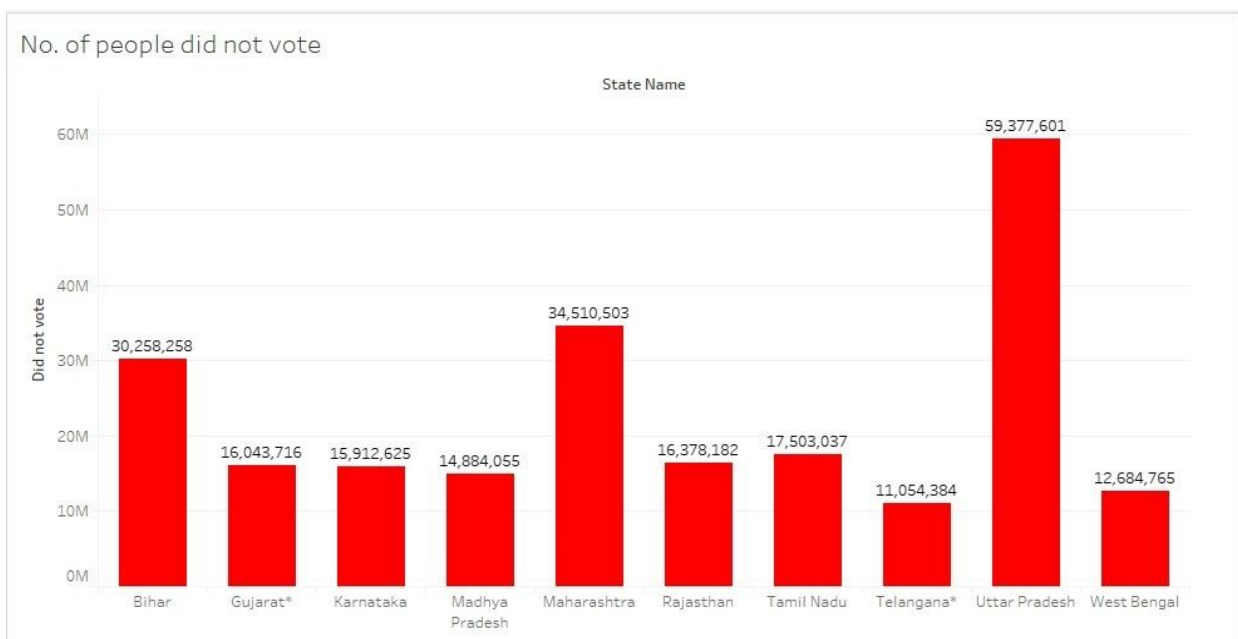

Best candidates

- State wise votes given. Uttar pradesh, Maharashtra, Tamil nadu, Andra pradesh and Bihar are the top 5 states with most number of votes, Uttar pradesh leading with upto 7.326% of votes.

Sheet 1

- Number of people who did not vote from the top 10 states. Around 60 million people who were eligible to vote in Uttar pradesh did not vote at all with many people in Maharashtra & Bihar also opting not to vote.

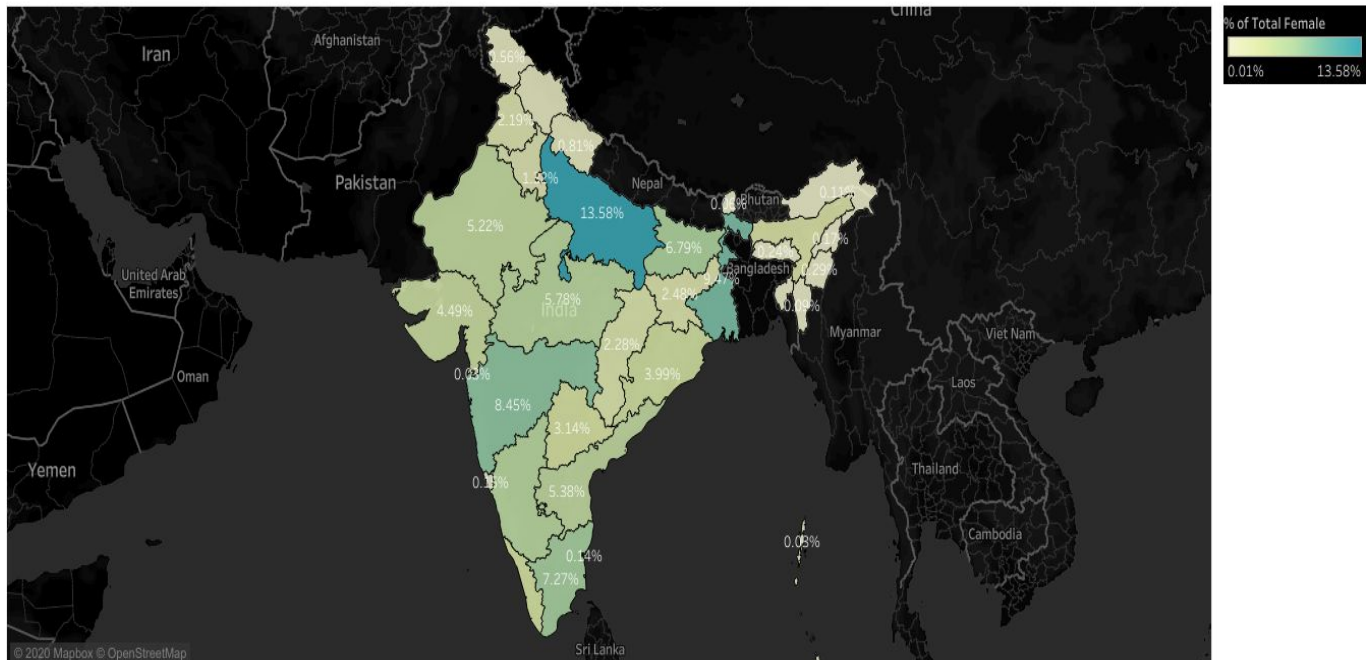

Did not vote.

Women empowerment:

1. State wise distribution of female voters. We can see that Uttar pradesh has the most number of female voters with 13.58% followed by Bihar, Maharashtra & Tamil nadu.

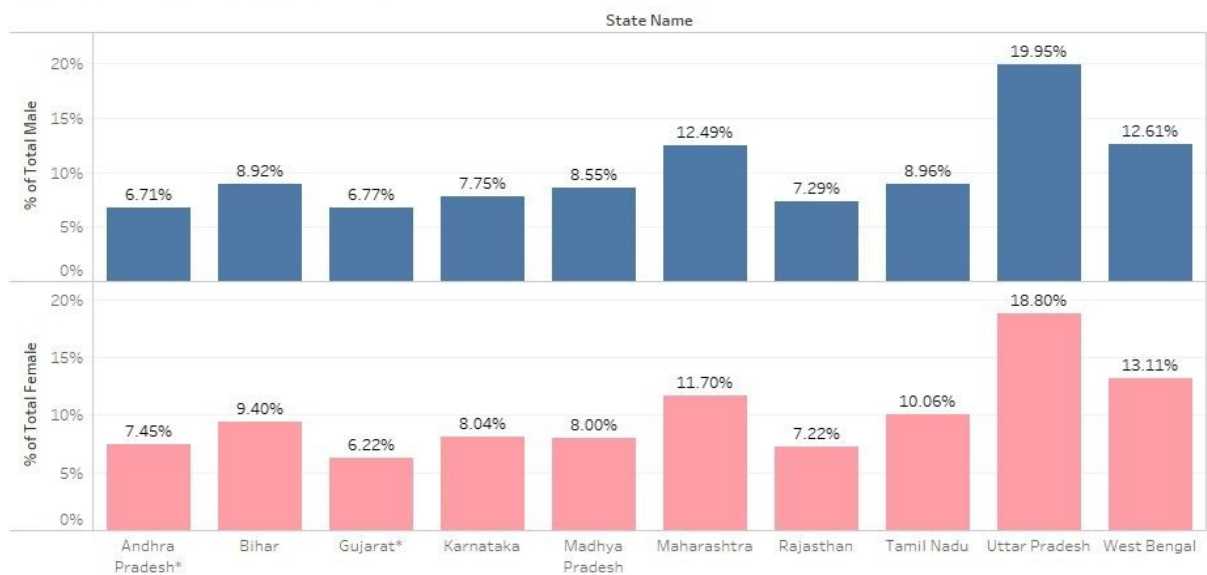

Most_female_voters

Female voters by state.

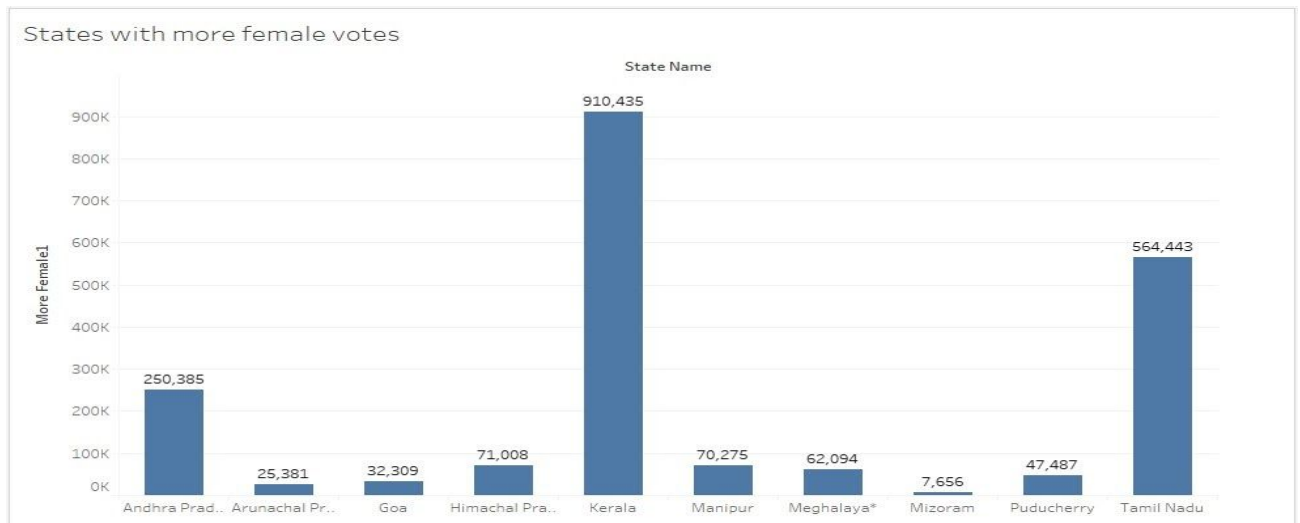

2. Male vs female comparison for number of votes given by top 10 states.
There is not much difference when compared, this shows the gender equality India has when it comes to voting rights.

MaleVsFemale for top 10 states

3. States with more female voters as compared to male voters.

Well as seen some states even have more female voters as compared to male.
Kerala leading with 9,10,435 more female voters as compared to male.

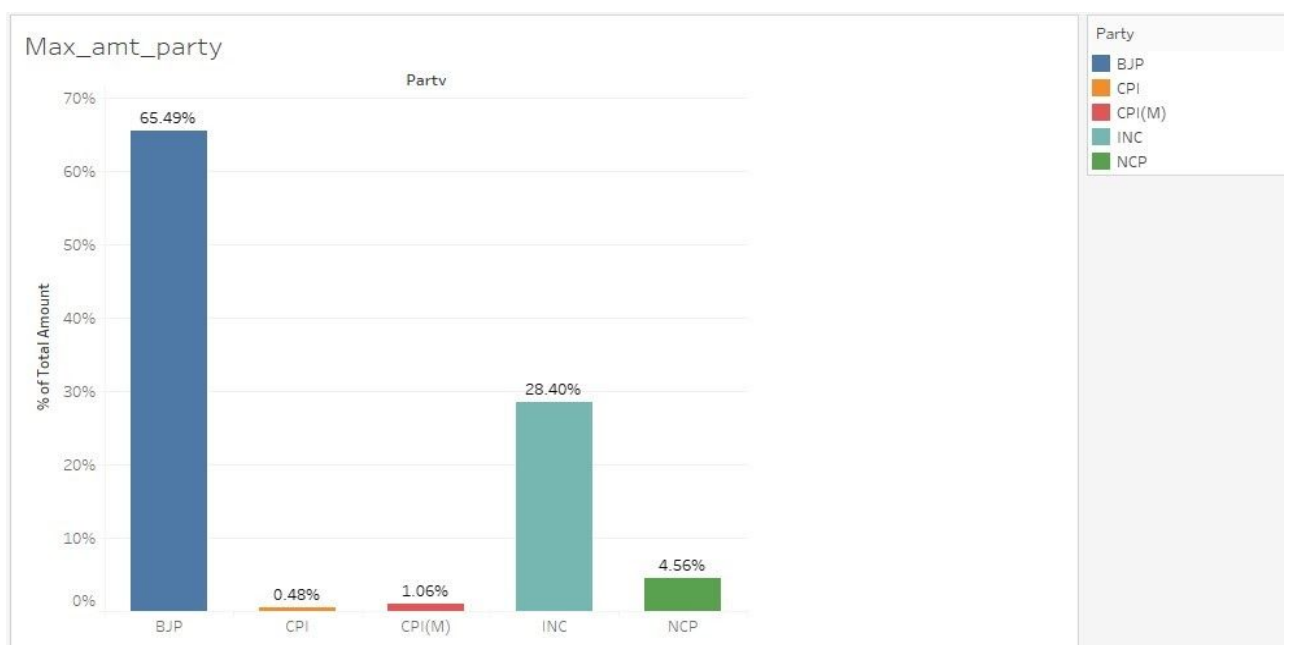

Insight of the elections.

Well no elections these days are won just with good work and popularity. One of the most important aspects is also 'Money'. Let's see how the political parties were funded.

1. Maximum funds receiving parties.

We already saw the dominance of BJP in the 2014 elections. Well they also received a huge amount of funds. Maybe this can be one of the big reasons for their win??

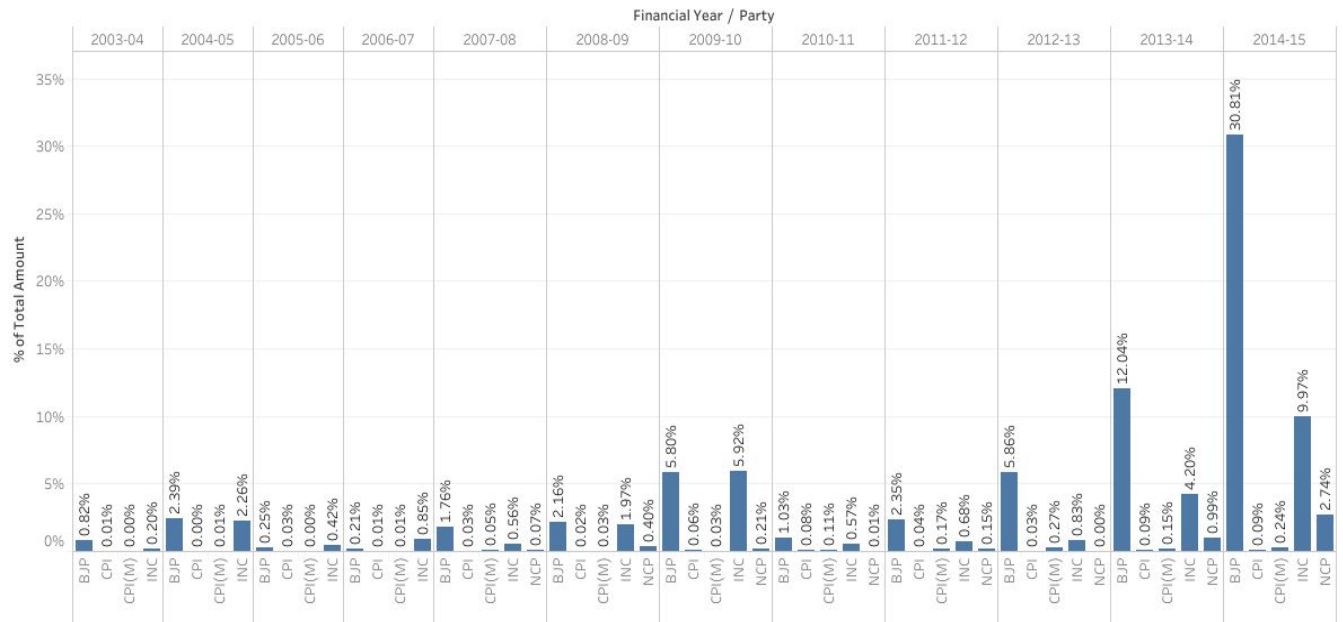

They have received 65.49% of the total funds that has been given to political parties from the year 2003-2014.

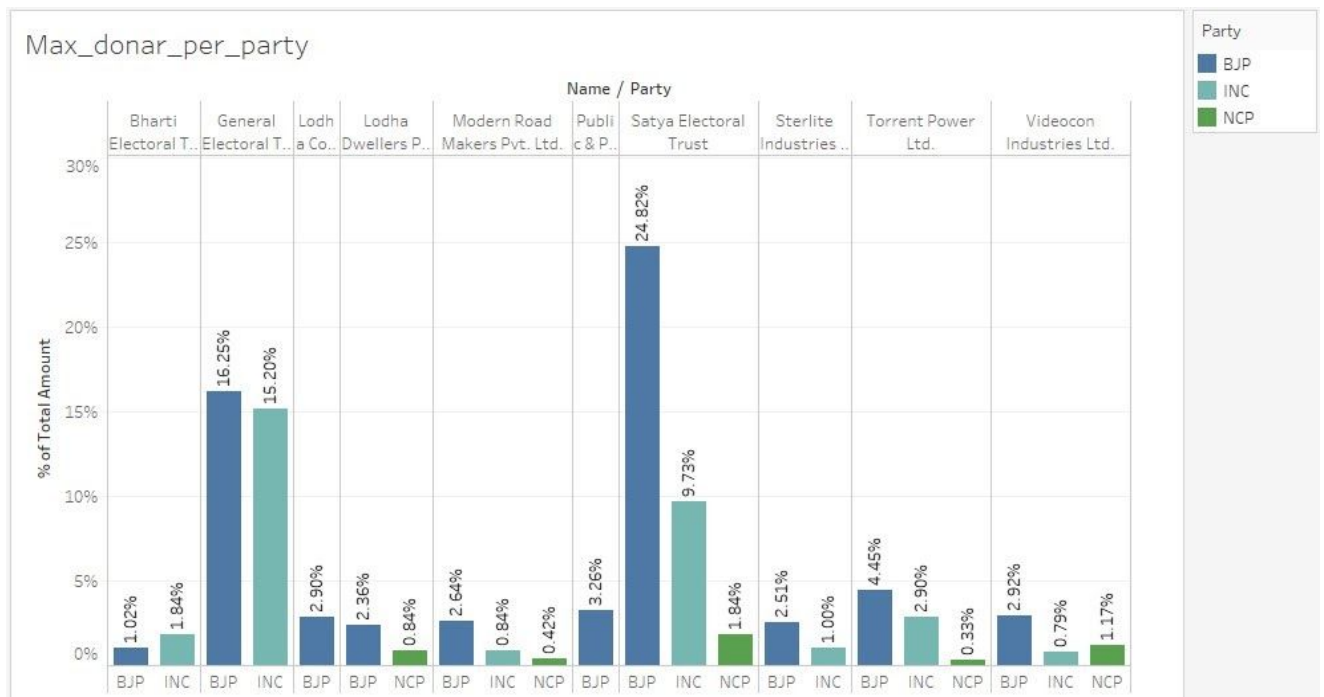

2. Funds received by parties each year from 2003-2014.

This graph clearly shows that BJP has received maximum funds every year & for 2014 elections the funds given to BJP were immense. Almost 31% of the total funds from 2003-2014 were just given in 2014.

Funds_per_year

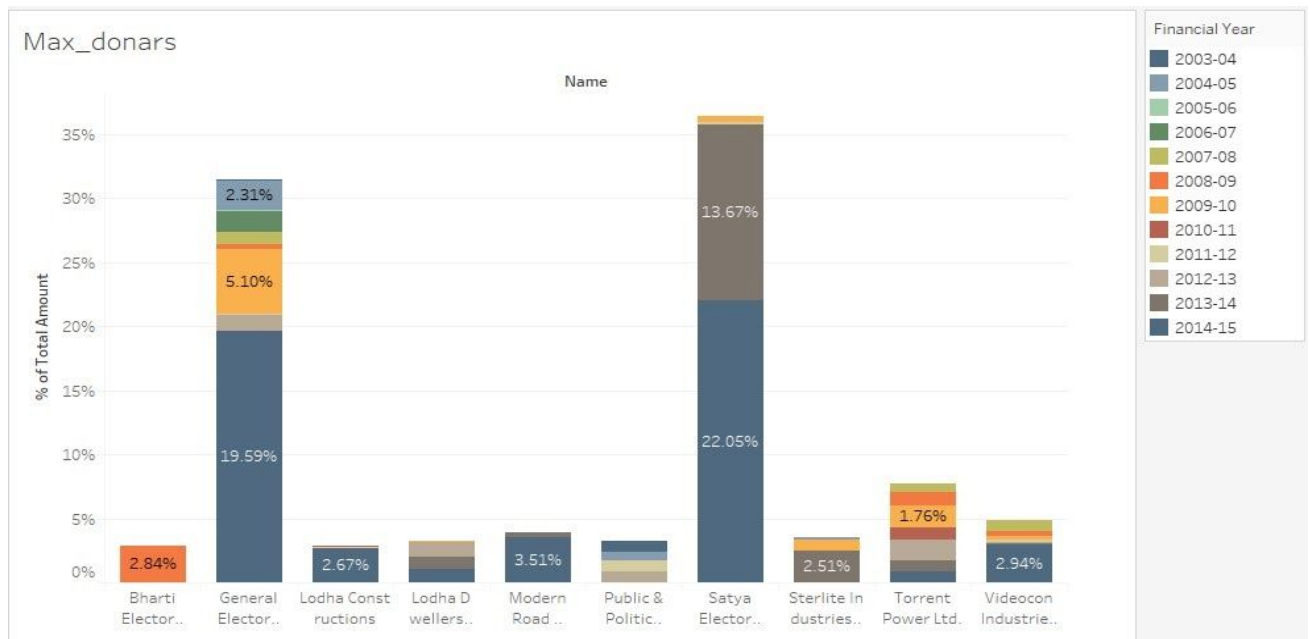

3. The top funders have also clearly supported BJP from 2003-2014.

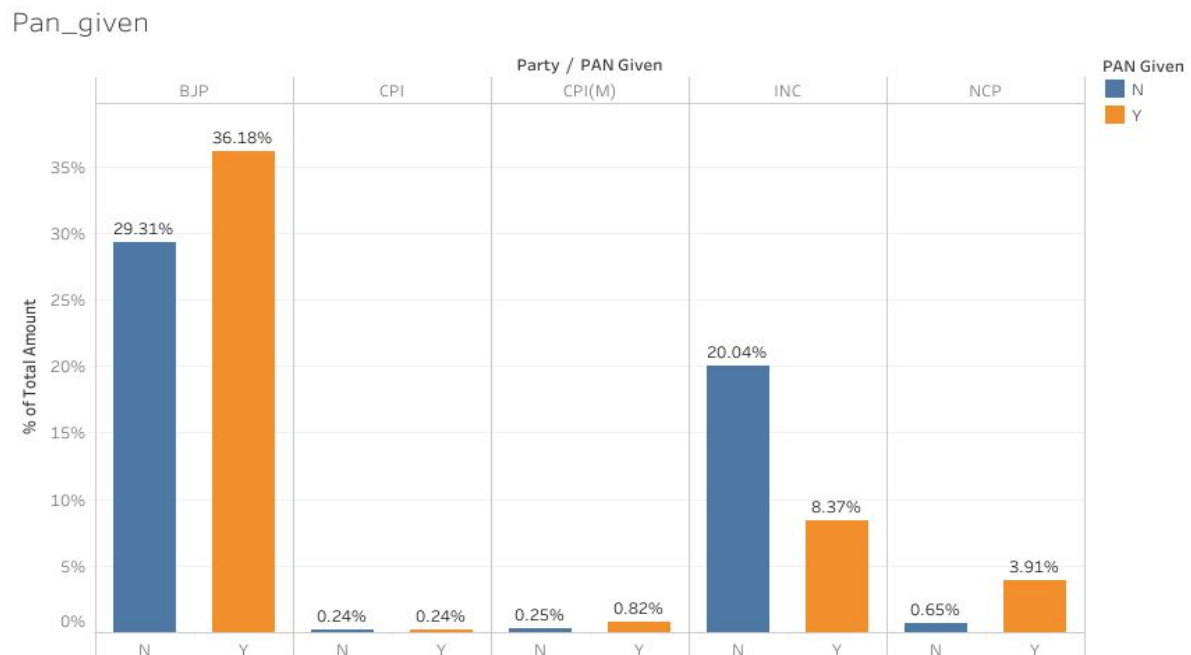

4. Donation given by top funders every year from 2003-2014.

Almost all the top funders have given maximum donations in the year 2014 when BJP won the elections.

5. PAN number is really important when it comes to money transactions in India. But from this graph it can be seen that both the top Indian political parties, BJP & INC has not given their PAN number for many transactions.

6. Funds given every year. The graph shows the funds given every year from 2004-2014.

Clearly there were peaks in 2004, 2009 & 2014. These were the times when there were elections in India. The peak in 2014 is huge, almost 44% of the total funds in these 10 years were just given in 2014.

